

Cancer Connect: Referring patients to Cancer Council's peer support program

Cancer Council Queensland's trained peer support volunteers can provide practical information, hope and encouragement before, during or after treatment. Some patients and carers find it comforting and motivating to talk with someone who has had a similar cancer or caring experience. Join this webinar for health professionals to get information on referral, eligibility criteria, and what patients can expect. Meet one of our trained volunteers and hear what makes a good Cancer Connect match.
