Corrections Webinar: Opportunities and Solutions for HCV care in Custodial Settings

An ASHM webinar in partnership with the Office for Prisoner Health and Wellbeing's ECHO Network

Wednesday 10th February 2021
7pm- 8:30pm (AEST)

Event Description

ASHM has partnered with the Office for Prisoner Health and Wellbeing's ECHO Network to deliver a webinar focused on patient experiences in their HCV treatment journey from testing to cure, opportunities for improvement and identification of solutions within custodial settings. This webinar complements the 2021 Queensland Prison Forum.

Lyn Cadman, Clinical Nurse from Woodford Correctional Centre will present a de-identified case to walk through a patient's journey, highlighting structural and organisational barriers to HCV care in custodial settings. Following this, will be a panel discussion with members from health, corrections and community.
