

Applying for grants

What it takes to write a successful application

For primary health care professionals

North Queensland primary health care professionals looking to develop their grant writing skills and knowledge are invited by Northern Queensland Primary Health Network to attend this presentation designed to improve capacity and capability.

The presentation will cover essential information, resources, and tools to build capabilities and improve knowledge around preparing and submitting a competitive, compliant funding application.

The learnings will benefit primary care practice managers and owners interested in exploring new business and funding opportunities.

Resources and extended post-presentation support will be made available to all participants.

Presenter:

- Laura Terry of Healthcare Business Solutions.

There are limited places available. To secure your place and for catering purposes, RSVP by 4pm, Tuesday 11 April 2023.
