

Cold chain management update

For general practice staff

Northern Queensland Primary Health Network, together with the Townsville Public Health Unit, invite general practice staff to an update on cold chain management.

Topics

- Cold chain management requirements.
- Maintaining cold chain, including during power outages.
- Packing a portable esky according to cold chain requirements.

Participating general practices will receive a Sof-Pac insulated premium cooler bag to use in their practice.

This update will be presented by the Townsville Public Health Unit's Public Health Nurses.

Two sessions are being offered for convenience, with videoconference attendance available at the Thursday 2 November 2023 session.

Light refreshments will be provided.
